

Dear AP Student/Parent:

You are enrolled to take AP Human Geography this year. You have the potential to earn college credit; therefore the academic expectations will reflect college level work. To that end, you will need to purchase your own book so you can write and highlight in the text. This will improve your understanding and ability to retain information from the book, and mirrors the expectation of college classes.

Please see this website to purchase a textbook before school starts on September 4th. This is a different textbook from last year. This new text will be more accessible to a high school reader and is significantly less expensive.

Summer assignment - Please read, read, read!! - Read historical novels about foreign lands, read the news about world events, and travel to new lands, cultures, languages, religions, etc.

Please act fast; you will need this book soon!

Thanks,

Tim Bettenhausen
